

Looking for a thrilling challenge? Want to have a real impact on tomorrow's technologies? Boost your career and join an international environment !

We are part of ALTEN Group, European leader in Technology Consulting and Engineering. Our 24 000 top engineers are working on various activities linked with industry, life sciences and information technologies across 20 countries around the world.

Working closely with the best companies in Belgium, we keep growing and aim to reach a 1000 consultants community in 2019.

If you are up to the challenge, then keep on reading, and discover the amazing opportunity below...

MAINTENANCE ENGINEER IN PHARMACEUTICAL INDUSTRY M/W

Tasks

As a Maintenance Engineer in pharmaceutical industry, you will be responsible for the implementation and scheduling of a maintenance plan as preventive or predictive measure with the goal to decrease the numbers of breakdowns or work stoppages because of equipment failure.

You are in charge of :

- Establishing the spare parts list for each equipment based on P&IDs and supplying the stocks
 - Ensuring timely repair for each piece of equipment
 - Carrying out the diagnosis process by Analyzing & Interpreting the equipment indicators
 - Initiating corrective actions & follow up through check tests, to eliminate the cause of failure, in order to improve product performance (reliability)
 - Supporting the optimization of the round of inspections according to the criticality of the installations
 - Ensuring the order and cleanliness of the technical areas of the department and define areas of improvement
- Requirements
- Graduated in Engineering or with a Master degree in Electromechanics, Bio-engineering, Mechanics or related domains
 - Experience in Biotechnology process, equipment, systems or devices
 - Knowledge of GMP
 - Proficient in English and French or Dutch

If you are interested, send directly an email to kvauchel@alten.be